Shippensburg University - Webmail Service

Clicking on the “Click here to View Message” screen takes you to a fraudulent Outlook Web Access site, where the phishers are attempting to get you to enter your ship.edu credentials. They want to use your email account to send thousands of spam / phishing messages. The subsequent messages are an attempt to collect bank account, credit card, or other sensitive information from anyone who would receive the message sent from your email account.

This is not a ship.edu website.
